From the reviewers: "As a medical doctor, I often have parents asking me for ADHD medication for their children because they difficulty in spelling and teachers have thought the child might have ADHD. Instead of prescribing medication, I have them read this Spelling Made Easy: Learn Your Words in Half the Time book first. Almost exclusively, these patients come back with A+ spelling grades and what parents and teachers thought looked like ADHD, was really not understanding a learning styles strategy for spelling." Stephen Guffanti, M.D.; ADHDorActiveChild.com "Thanks to the strategies in this book, my daughter went from an 'F' to an 'A' in spelling." Ann Langley, Ph.D. "Around second grade we began spelling. For my oldest, this has been quite a challenge. She can write her words over and over nightly with no results. I have tried word searches and crosswords, still with little results. With this product, she has aced her spelling with an all new confidence. I would recommend this product to anyone who has a child with less than perfect spelling abilities." Sarah from homemadememories-homeschooling.com Do you ever wonder why some people write their words down 10 times each, practice them aloud the morning of the test, then forget how to spell them during the test? Do spelling tests ever make you anxious? Here is the solution to spelling success and as one reviewer says, "The strategies in the book helped my daughter go from F's to A's in spelling." People who write their words down 10 times each and use them in sentences, then forget them during the test have this challenge because they do not know the visual learning (picture) strategy that A+ spellers use naturally. Spelling Made Easy gives you the specific strategy that great spellers always use. Since the best spellers see images of the words in their minds, they have access to very quick recall of the words they need to know. Great spellers don't rely on phonics because so many words are not spelled as they sound. Once you have this Spelling Made Easy Success System, you will be able to see the words in your mind too. This book helps every child with spelling and also has a very positive impact on people with learning differences like dyslexia and ADHD as well. Sometimes, a parent or a teacher think their child has ADHD when it's actually because they don't know the best learning strategy to master a subject. When you use the Spelling Made Easy Success System, you not only cut your learning time dramatically but have a proven way to quickly recall your spelling words for the test and in your writing. Spelling Made Easy is part of the Instant Learning Series of books by Pat Wyman and HowToLearn.com. Be sure and look for upcoming titles such as Math Facts Made Easy: Learn Addition and Subtraction in Half the Time; Math Facts Made Easy: Learn Multiplication and Division in Half the Time and Vocabulary Made Easy and more...

I am a visual learner, but I would have been unable to describe HOW I am a visual learner. My boys are both Auditory learners. This simple technique will work for them. I practiced with my Auditory husband this afternoon and saw instant results. We took the Learning Styles Quiz that is linked in the ebook for free with my oldest son and it was spot on. I learned some simple to implement ideas - I will be using them on Monday. I can see that the ideas given in the book will definitely work. Thanks. I was offered free download of the book Spelling Made Easy from Pat Wyman at HowToLearn.com as part of being a Homeschool.com Product Tester. My opinion and experience are my own.

Being the homeschooling mother of two children with autism, I am always searching for ways to help them learn and retain information. With autism, my children are generally visual learners but they tend to learn only what is of interest to them and tune out everything else. Because language is such a hard concept for them in general, having tips on how to reach their visual mental chalkboards was very helpful. Of course we try to expand their understandings beyond simple visual learning but we have to reach them first. The information in this book was very clear and easy to read. It was also short enough to read in one night. I would recommend this to anyone who is trying to find creative ways to educate their children.

AWESOME! The book is easy to read, easy to implement, and EFFECTIVE!!!! My son was really struggling with his spelling to the point he was anxious at school and his self esteem was plummeting. I took the learning styles test referenced, and my visual learner "got it" using the techniques so expertly explained. One review complained about the book not being long enough, I AM TRILLED IT is to the point and not bogged down with useless information. This is a godsend! Wish MY MOM had the chance to buy it when I was a child. As a visual learner myself, I know the pain of "not feeling smart" when it came to spelling. The fact that spelling did not come easy for me affected my self esteem tremendously. I can save my son from this pain! He knows his learning style and how to use these brilliant tips to help him excel. If you are reading this review, there is a child you are trying to help. So by all means..... BUY THE BOOK! I can not wait for Math Facts Made Easy and the other books by Pat Wyman. Watch out for them! Lets help our kids LEARN HOW TO LEARN!!!

I have just decided to homeschool my kids, and my son who is almost 4 is already reading some words. After reading this book, I know he will be able to process more words quicker than before. I never would have thought to teach him to visualize it in his mind like a photo, even though that's what I do when I'm spelling all the time. Nice, creative way to help anyone learn how to spell!

Any parent or teacher who wants their child/students to do exceptionally well in spelling needs this book. The strategies inside: 1) show your child "how to learn" and not just what to learn which obviously creates a life-long learner who knows how to spell not just for a test but in their writing too 2) reveal a visual learning strategy that precisely matches how kids are tested on written tests so this helps your child in every subject - not just spelling 3) gives you a way to quickly raise your child's self-esteem. Kids who struggle with poor grades in any subject begin to think they are "dumb" or not smart and this has nothing to do with their intelligence. Pat Wyman is a learning expert whose books have already helped millions of students around the world. I've read them all. I recommend this Spelling Made Easy book, along with her upcoming titles including Math Facts Made Easy, Vocabulary Made Easy, Learning Styles Made Easy and every other book she writes. When your child succeeds your home is more peaceful, your child becomes a more curious learner, and it encourages passion about new learning too. That is why this book is so important - it's more than just about spelling - it's about your child's way of being - helping them discover new ways they can feel positive about their learning abilities in every subject.

As a University Professor I read this book and knew that every teacher in our program should use it to help their students achieve top grades in spelling. Wyman's many best selling books are well-known, proven, and highly respected. Wyman, too, is a college professor who teaches teachers. She writes this book in a way that any busy parent or educator can easily assimilate and use the information to help a child succeed in spelling. Use this book to ensure that your child or student achieves high marks in spelling and what you will also find is that their belief in themselves to succeed in other areas will improve at the same time. I personally thank Pat Wyman for bringing this useable information to us. And it costs less than a trip for a coffee and muffin! How much better does it get? Don't even think twice about buying this book and using it right away. I recommend it to ALL teachers and parents and to every parent who needs a specific set of strategies to help his/her child succeed in spelling and in school.

I enjoyed reading Spelling Made Easy. I already use most of the ideas the book suggests. I just have not used them all together. I have tried the up to the left tip, it works... We also use the take a picture and make a camera click sound... we also know about playing with words and decorating them or making pictures out of them. I have been doing these things occasionally, but I can see how much more effective it will be to use them all together. I plan to use the suggestions and get out the colorful markers, shorten the spelling list and take the time to make the words into mental pictures... I know that it will help my 4 homeschoolers get it! Sometimes we write the words we are working on in colored chalk on the trampoline. Then I read the word cards and they have to jump up high to see them all and then swat the correct word with a clean fly swatter. That helps my active boys remember the words better too.
