Ed Emberley is the Caldecott Award-winning author of the popular Drawing Book series, as well as the best-selling Go Away, Big Green Monster! He lives in Ipswich, MA.

My daughters draw faces out of this book all the time. (They are 5 and 7 years old). We do it together because it really is easy and makes you feel like a cartoonist. Even a non-drawer will feel successful with these drawings.

Our 5 year old absolutely loves these books. She loves to draw and this book has very easy step by step instructions to help her draw cool faces. Since there is no reading in the instructions, it is easy for her to follow the pictures and do one step at a time. Great for her creativity and to help her draw new things. I even went back and bought another one of Ed's books for her to try.

Bought this for my 7 year old granddaughter, but before I sent it, I did many of the faces myself and had a blast. I am not a gifted artist by any means, but I loved learning basic cartoon-type facial expressions to reflect emotion and fun. Haven't heard if she's tried it yet.

We bought the book with sewn binding. The book is very good quality. I gave it four stars instead of five because many of the faces are so similar that I don't know if the count of faces is truly accurate. But they are cute and the book itself will undoubtedly last.

After having grown up myself, flipping thru the Ed Emberley books, I was really excited to introduce the series to my own children. The steps are straightforward and easy for small children to understand. Upon receiving the book, I chose a simple picture of a little girl with curly hair, from the first page, to draw for my daughter, so that she could understand the symbols and how they were added step by step to create the pictures. One example seemed to be all it took for my 5 year old to become hooked on this method of drawing! Riley and her "Faces" book have become practically inseparable, and I've noticed that all of her drawings now include the little details of realistic facial expressions. The grandparents love her homemade cards and the school teachers find her art skills "advanced" for a 5 year old. Its a great resource for non-artistic parents too, that want to add charming doodles to boring brown paper lunch bags, or thank you notes for friends. I can't wait to purchase more!

This is a good drawing book for my 7 year old son - I wish the pictures were a bit more spread out and bigger though.

Very helpful for someone like me with zip ability to draw!

My grandson loved it! My children also loved Ed Emberley when they were young. Great books for the novice artist.
