Experiencing The Torah

Synopsis

A textbook with twenty-three units focus on the Torah from Adam and Eve to the Death of Moses. Active and experiential approach means doing rather than just learning. Full-color student textbook include a carefully-translated Torah text and experiential activities to make express the story in students own words This book teaches using the Torah of doing. It starts with age-appropriate translations of the actual biblical text that are presented as scripts. Rather than just reading the text, students perform it. Reading the text out loud is the first movement in interpretation. This is not just a Genesis book; it is a book that covers the whole Torah. In twenty-three texts we go from Adam and Eve to the Death of Moses. The Holiness Code, the Burning Bush, the Spies and Mah Tov are stops on this journey. Delving Deeper: Commentaries let students explore single phrases or sentences in the text and express their own feelings about their meaning. Students get to compare their own sense of the texts meaning with traditional commentators. Activities: Translate the text into experiences. We act, sing, dance, create art and express the inner-story of the text in our own way. Torah study doesnt involve just sitting and listening with Experiencing the Torah. Rather it involves students (and families) in active learning experiences. It is the book that invites you to post your Torah interpretations on YouTube. Students will be remixing their own understandings.Torah Aura Productions publishes books for Jewish schools and families that help celebrate our heritage and our faith.
