Still, Georgie Shaw loves working at the "Cat Factory," but when someone frames her for murder more than her job is at stake. Who's out to get Georgie? Can she and the handsome detective, Jack Wheeler, figure it out before there's more trouble at Marvelous Marley World? Whodunit? Read Murder at Catmmando Mountain, meet Georgie, Jack, and Georgie's beloved Siamese cat, Miles, to find out! RECIPES INCLUDED

What readers are saying about Murder at Catmmando Mountain...."Murder at Catmmando Mountain is a delightful cozy mystery full of eccentric characters set in an amusement park. (Think Disney World.) ""This is a fantastic cozy mystery with an engaging heroine, sexy detective and best of all, her chocolate point Siamese Miles. Can't wait to read book 2 in the series.""This is the start of something wonderful. Catmando mountain, a Disneyesk park, the home of a diverse and interesting group of people, and, dare I say it, a budding romance.""This was a really good book with an awesome storyline. I'm so glad that I read this book by the author. It had drama, suspense, and little romance. Read these books!!""This cozy is a homerun in my opinion. It takes place at an amusement park in California that reminds me of Disney World here in FL. The victim is disliked by a lot of employees, so the list of suspects is long including our heroine Georgie Shaw. I like that Georgie and her gentleman friend are in their 40â™s bringing a mature relationship to the story, along with Georgieâ™s cat, Miles. Itâ™s a very fast-paced and fun story with enough twists and turns to satisfy most cozy lovers."

Customer Reviews

I've read Anna Celeste Burke's cozy mysteries before, and like her others, Murder at Catmando Mountain was a real treat and a quick read. From page one, I felt taken back to times spent at the amusement park, so it was enjoyable to read about the mechanisms that keep a park running smoothly while keeping it pristine for visitors and making sure employees perform their duties. Another plus in this novel was lead character, Georgie's feline named Miles (after jazz musician, Miles Davis). His personality shows some cats can be a riot, and I wanted him to visit my house. Who couldn't use a morning alarm system of a loud Yeow zinging into one's eardrum? Murder at Catmando Mountain quickly jumps into the murder, and since it does, I don't think I'm inserting a spoiler to say it was a brutal attack on the daughter of Max Marley, owner of Marvelous Marley World Enterprises. Mallory was also known as Cruella de Vil, and not only was she vile to work associates, the thin waif collected men for the fun of it. Married, engaged, dating, or single, she didn't care who was left in her wake as long as this spoiled only child got what she wanted. Hated by almost everyone, the suspects were plentiful, however lead character Georgina Shaw turned up with a solid alibi taken by a state camera and clocked at the same time as the murder. Items belonging to Georgie continued to show up, from her cashmere scarf at the murder scene to the alleged murder weapon in her coat pocket. I kept guessing one person after another, meanwhile, homicide detective Jack Wheeler, was narrowing the extremely long list. And falling in love with lead character Georgie. The feeling was mutual as flying pheromones had Georgie hearing 'Snap, crackle, pop' every time the two were in close proximity. I could visualize riding around the park on an employee bicycle, ringing the bell at visitors in harm's way, while taking in the wonderful park atmosphere. I'm usually good at figuring out whodunit before the end of a read, but this wasn't one of those times for me. Still, because there was some 'blackout' time mentioned by the accused murderer and full details were never divulged, I'm wondering if this saga/investigation will redevelop and possibly point fingers at the person I suspected, or another employee or person she has wronged. I hope this case indeed gets reopened, giving readers a chance to follow the budding romance of Georgie and Jack, no longer young things, but still passionately alive. Hmmm. Did one of the many suited animal characters get away with the perfect crime, or did a jealous, jilted girlfriend get revenge, or is the one in custody the actual murderer?

As Georgie Shaw can tell you, it's not easy doing Public Relations for Catmando Tom, a famous cartoon cat. When they find a dead body at the foot of Catmando Mountain in Marvelous Marley World's Arcadia theme park it's a PR nightmare! Still, Georgie loves working at the "Cat Factory," but when someone frames her for murder more than her job is at stake. Who's out to get Georgie? Can she and the handsome detective, Jack Wheeler, figure it out before there's more trouble at Marvelous Marley World? Read Murder at Catmando Mountain, meet Georgie, Jack, and Georgie's beloved Siamese cat, Miles, to find out whodunit.

All of Anna Celeste Burke books seem to be available on kindle unlimited, although I think at first I came across her in one of the Happy Homicides anthologies she is in. Also after reading a freebie or something as well, I went and bought every book out, pre-ordered #4 out now and have pre-ordered #5 now. There are blurbs at the start of every book if you want to know about characters, plots and all that. My rating is 5 and 5, everything else is rather up to the personal tastes of each reader. Below is a list of her series, with titles, in order. Try them on KU or buy them in sets or individually as I did; KU is nice, but keeping certain books forever is better.

Remind me to NEVER take a job at an Amusement Park! I know that Georgie Shaw wishes that she never gave up her job in the Food and Beverage Division. It seems as if many of the workers at Catmmando Mountain are half-baked and half-baked is still plenty dangerous! It's a good thing that Georgie has Miles to keep her on task " at least at home. I guess that even when you have a lot, there's always more. The twists and turns in this book are eye opening. Be prepared to enjoy the roller coaster ride!

Cute little murder mystery set in a make believe theme park. Plenty of suspects, some humor, and a little romance. I like the romance part the best and was happy to learn there are more stories involving the two of them!

Anna Burke writes great cozy mysteries, and this one, the first in the Georgie Shaw series, is no exception. Burke paints a whimsical, rich setting with every detail of Marvelous Marley World bursting off the page. Every character in Burke's novel has a distinct voice and I left this book ready to find out what else detective Jack, Georgie, and wily cat Miles get up to. You can't help but fall in love with these characters and well-written mystery, the perfect book to curl up and enjoy on a rainy afternoon. This is a unique and instantly entertaining book that I would pass on to anyone who loves a good whodunit, with suspense and enough character chemistry to light up your imagination.

I WASN'T SURE I WANTED TO START A NEW SERIES BUT, I BOUGHT THE FIRST BOOK AND AFTER A FEW CHAPTERS, I BOUGHT THE OTHER BOOKS TO THE SERIES. I AM GLAD I DID AS I JUST FINISHED THE FIRST BOOK AND MOVING ON TO THE NEXT ONE. I AM A "CALI" GAL AND LOVE READING STORIES ABOUT MY OLD HAUNTS..I AM SURE I WILL BE READING MORE OF THIS AUTHOR'S BOOKS...
