Ancient Maya Traders Of Ambergris Caye (Caribbean Archaeology And Ethnohistory)

Synopsis

Archaeologists are unsure exactly when the Maya inhabited the coastal areas of Belize, but ample evidence exists to support an extensive maritime trade network along the coast by A.D. 600. This volume focuses on the maritime trade network sites on Ambergris Caye, Belize where excavations have revealed remnants of very small villages, or camps, along the Caribbean coastline.

Thomas H. Guderjan is the president of Maya Research Program, a non-profit research organization. He received his Ph.D. from Southern Methodist University and has been a faculty member at St. Mary's University and Texas Christian University.

Very concise reference book regarding the Mayan traders of this region. I really enjoyed the author's style of a low key, matter of fact dialogue. Very funny at times! Humor is a huge part of Belizan culture and the writings reflect that aspect. Highly recommend!
