Customer Reviews

We traveled in the South Island. The map is good and really strong, but you really don't need a map today while traveling. There are not that many roads in NZ and if you have google maps on your phone, you will most probably be able to find where you need to go. The one time we needed a map was to find the Hokitika Gorge, the map was not helpful. It was not detailed enough to find the smaller roads we needed. Luckily we had internet coverage in Hokitika and in some spots on the way so we were able to find it. Good map, but we didn't need it while there. It might be helpful for planning your trip if you don't want to work with an on-line map.

I just received this and hopefully will love it. I am not sure the paper will be sturdy enough for significant use when we get to New Zealand. However, I like that I received the 8th edition, published in 2016, rather than the 7th edition (2013), which is indicated on . It has lots of sites marked and special markings for very scenic spots. It has one way streets indicated in the cities and dotted lines indicating railroads, even the smaller scenic ones. If it holds up, it will 5 stars.

Really useful map with icons marking POIs, and roads are clearly marked. Sturdy map as well, should withstand our travels.

This is a fantastic road map. It has both the North and South islands with places of interest noted as well as insets with city detail. It is coated paper which can be folded again and again without wearing or tearing. Extremely useful and highly recommend.

We love maps, we are headed to New Zealand, and this great map is coming along. We have looked it over carefully and are looking forward to using it in the months ahead. Very happy with this purchase!

It's a large map, so you have to have space to use it. South Island on one side and North on the other. Seems durable, though and detail is OK, including major "tramps" to plan a trip. I think smaller more detailed maps will be required when we get there.

Really well-made map, very durable, lasted through countless foldings and unfoldings throughout a 3-week tour of NZ. Only problem is size- this thing is BIG.

The map is good for a quick look to all the worth-visiting places in New Zealand. Often we prepare our itinerary from the reviews of the Internet, the defect is you can not have a whole picture of your plan because you always lose something inside somewhere in your plan. The best way to solve this problem is buying a map like this to fill all gaps that are missing.
